

COOK COUNTY CLERK RELEASES 2005 TAX RATES

July 20, 2006
For Immediate Release

Bill Vaselopulos (312) 603-5649

The Cook County Clerk's office today released the 2005 property tax rates for more than 1,200 taxing agencies in Chicago and suburban Cook County.

This completes a process begun last December when each local taxing district, as required by law, filed its levy with the Clerk's office. Each levy represents the amount of revenue an individual taxing body has requested to collect from the property tax.

"The Clerk's office receives the levies or the amount of tax money requested by each jurisdiction, and calculates the tax rates based on state law," said Bill Vaselopulos, director of the Clerk's Tax Extension Department.

The Clerk's office calculates the tax rates by using the amount of dollars levied by the taxing agency and the value of all taxable property located within its boundaries. Under the Property Tax Extension Limitation Law, each Cook County taxing body with a statutory ceiling rate has its levy adjusted to the maximum amount based on the statutory ceiling for the district and the previous year's total equalized assessed value of property (the district's "prior-year EAV"), plus the value of any new construction. This calculation can restrict the agency from receiving the full amount of its levy. Statutory rate limits apply to most categories of taxing agencies, but not to home rule units such as the City of Chicago and the County of Cook.

In accordance with the tax cap requirements of the Property Tax Extension Limitation Law, the revenue that agencies may collect is further limited – in most cases – to a 3.3 percent increase over that from the prior year's extension. Home rule agencies remain exempt from this limitation. Also, revenue needed to pay bonds is excluded if the bonds fall under the district's total bond indebtedness as of March 1, 1995. The 2006 tax revenues will be limited to 3.4 percent more than the amount extended this year based on the Consumer Price Index released in January 2006.

Vaselopoulos also noted that the equalization factor issued by the state increased this year to 2.732, up 6.1 percent from 2.5757 last year. Furthermore, he pointed out that with this year's reassessment of the south suburbs, homeowners there began to be eligible for an expanded homeowner's exemption, a result of legislation enacted in 2004. The exemption, which acts to phase in each year a 7 percent increase of a property's taxable value, began with homeowners in the City of Chicago in 2004 and reached the northern suburbs for the first time last year. With the reassessment of the south suburbs, homeowners in all three triennial reassessment areas are now eligible for the expanded exemption.

The precise amount of taxable value that is phased in each year, and the value of the exemption granted for any particular property, will vary based on the value of the home and the amount of the assessment increase. At most, homeowners can receive a yearly exemption of $20,000 of equalized assessed value. The minimum exemption amount is $5,000. Seniors can obtain an additional $3,000 exemption with the standard senior exemption.

Examples of tax rates on an average Chicago residence are included with the attached rate information. The impact of suburban tax rates can be figured by substituting the Chicago rate with local suburban rates and using an exemption amount between $5,000 and $20,000.
