

About Us

Cedric Giles
Cook County Clerk

The Cook County Clerk's office has a variety of property tax responsibilities. When delinquent or unpaid taxes are sold by the Cook County Treasurer's office, the Clerk's office handles the redemption process, which allows taxpayers to redeem, or pay, their taxes to remove the risk of losing their property. Records for delinquent taxes for prior years are the responsibility of the Clerk's office.

The Clerk's office also maintains the county's property tax maps and calculates tax rates based on the tax levies submitted by the county's taxing districts and the valuation of properties within those districts.

Delinquent Property Tax Search, Tax Redemption, TIFs, Tax Rates & Maps

If a property has delinquent or unpaid taxes, the Clerk's office handles the redemption process, which allows taxpayers to redeem (pay) their taxes to remove the risk of losing their property.

The Clerk's office also maintains the county's property tax maps, calculates property tax rates, has online information about tax increment financing districts (TIFs) and taxing district's financial documents for public inspection. A full description of our services and functions can be found at cookcountyclerk.com/tsd, or by calling (312) 603-5645.

Delinquent Property Tax Search

If your unpaid taxes have been sold, you are at risk of losing your property. The Clerk's office can provide you with an "Estimate of the Cost of Redemption," detailing the amount necessary to redeem (pay) your taxes and remove the threat of losing your property. We also provide calculations and tax bills for any delinquent taxes still owed from prior years.

Property owners may also require "Certificates of Payment" ($5) and "Certificates of Deposit for Redemption" ($3), which document payments or deposit of redemption funds.
